While your RMA of New York physician will always try to perform your examination or procedure, operating as a group practice allows RMA of New York to be staffed 364 days per year and provide each patient with the care that is timed to maximize the opportunity for success. If your treatment includes a procedure performed at RMA of New York that requires anesthesia, an anesthesiologist who is Board Certified and licensed in the State of New York will be used.

Many treatment plans at RMA of New York can require frequent monitoring and interaction with both the physicians and the highly experienced nursing staff. All nursing staff is licensed as Registered Nurses (RN) or Licensed Practical Nurses (LPN) and is also licensed in the State of New York. The Nurse Practitioner staff is also licensed in the State of New York.
